ICC World Trade Agenda Day

22 MARCH 2017 | LONDON | 9:00-12:00

The ICC World Trade Agenda Day will bring together global CEOs and leaders of international organizations, together with British business leaders and key Ministers to discuss the global economic trends and outlook for 2017. Given recent political developments and protectionist rhetoric, speakers will explore what implications protectionism may have for business as well as what implications business priorities for global trade and investment may have for governments and policymakers.
